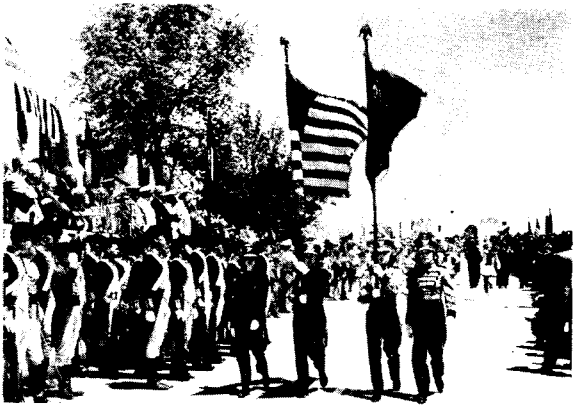
A detachment of the Monticello Guards, of Charlottesville, heads the parade of military units.



Charlottesville. The colorful Colonial uniforms of the guards drew forth a murmur of approval from the crowd of thousands assembled before the reviewing stand.

Even the weather put on its best for the dedication of this $9,000,000 project. A mild, cloudless day provided a perfect setting for the occasion--and a field day for

The Poquoson High School Band parades smartly past the reviewing stand.

Governor Battle, Mrs. George P. Coleman, Miss Cynthia Kimbrough and Commander Raymond B. Bottom arrive at the reviewing stand.